2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to claim 1, the prior art of record do not teach a cursor manipulator including an image detector, receiving images from the pressure sensor array, generating cursor manipulation corresponding to changes between the images, wherein a sampling resolution of the sensing surface is based on at least one of periodically sampling alternating pixels in the pressure sensor array such that sampled pixels are distributed in a periodic pattern throughout the pressure sensor array, wherein the plurality of array are distributed in a non-overlapping pattern throughout the pressure sensor array, and wherein each of the plurality of zones includes multiple pixels of the pressure sensor array.

With respect to claim 6, the prior art of record do not teach a system for providing cursor manipulation when using a human finger comprising; a sensing surface, wherein the sensing surface having a sampling resolution based on at least one of periodically sampling alternating pixels in an array such that sampled pixels are distributed in a periodic pattern throughout the array and monitoring at least one of a plurality of zones in the pressure sensor array, wherein the plurality of zones are distributed in non-overlapping pattern throughout the pressure sensor array, and wherein each of the plurality of zones includes multiple pixels of the pressure sensor array.

With respect to claim 10, the prior art of record do not teach a method for finger navigation of a cursor comprising; sampling a portion of an array of pressure sensors to generate a first sample based on at least one of periodically sampling alternating pixels in the array such that sampled pixels are distributed in a periodic pattern throughout the array and monitoring at least one of a plurality of zones in the array, wherein the plurality of zones are distributed in a non-overlapping pattern throughout the array, and wherein each of the plurality of zones includes multiple pixels of the array.

With respect to dependent claims 2-5, 7-9, 11, 13-21 are allowed as they depend upon an allowed independent claim.
